A League of Our Own

Mark your calendars for June 8 - 12

The Indiana League of Municipal Clerks and Treasurers will be gathering in Evansville, Indiana to celebrate the 72nd Annual Conference.

Our President Retha Hicks, Conference Chairs: Kay Brown, Remington, Kathryn Chrapliwy, Walkerton, Deb Twitchell, Angola and myself, Janet Jaros of Noblesville want to WELCOME all of you.

We will also be welcomed by the Aztar Hotel and Convention Center and the LeMerigot Hotel. There will be opportunities for education, making new friends and yes, having fun. The hotel sits along the beautiful Ohio River.

On Monday we start the conference with Institute and Academy classes. Monday evening will be the welcome party with carriage rides through historic Evansville.

Tuesday morning State Board of Accounts will start their school. The Opening session, in the afternoon, will have you tapping your feet to the beat. That evening we will venture off site to Bosse Field. This is where the film A League of Their Own was filmed. We will have a picnic and tour the facility. Games will be played, not by the professional ball players but by the professional Clerks and Treasurers. I have heard that "Harry Carey" may stop by.

Wednesday we will continue with State Board of Accounts. (these are called meetings). Wednesday night we will have a banquet and dancing with music provided by Endless Summer.

Closing session will be Thursday morning.

Registration and hotel information have been included in this edition of the Quest. So come on down! We look forward to meeting all of the new Clerks and Treasurers as well as our old friends during this exciting week!

A Clerk-Treasurer's Journey

On The Long Winding Road

Have you ever been out on a drive and you thought it would be fun to take "that road" over there? "That road" is a road you have not been down before and thought it would be fun and adventurous to take a journey down "that road."

Well I took that road back on January 1, 1996, when I took office as the clerk-treasurer for the Town of Etna Green. Wow, what an adventure that road has been. The first mile or so I got lost, quickly one of the first things I did was stop and ask for directions. It was incredible how everyone was so helpful all it took was picking up the phone and calling another clerk-treasurer or Charlie Pride with the State Board of Accounts. So I hope both old and new clerks will depend on those of us who are there for you. Let's make the next four years a record of clerk-treasurers and clerks who complete our term. I know the first couple miles down that road were overwhelming and sometimes frustrating, but if you continue down the road you will have experiences that are both rewarding and memorable.

There were several wonderful stops along the way. My first stop was what we call the "Institute and Academy". This was a week of networking and classes. I can't tell you how important this week is to your success as clerk or clerk-treasurer. What you learn from the classes and networking is a benefit to you and your community.

My journey as clerk-treasurer has had a lot of detours, pot-holes, black ice and other eventful moments to make the journey a part of my life that has affected who I am today. My journey has had wonderful moments with friends along with personal and professional accomplishments.

Don't feel like you are driving "solo", there are plenty of experience co-pilots to help you along the winding road as clerk-treasurer. Make sure you take those stops needed to re-charge your battery and "Educate Up."

My journey will take me home to my husband Barry of 28 years, my two daughters Rachelle (21) and Renee' (18), who were waiting to hear how my journey has been. (My dog Duke, cat Trixie and two bunnies sometimes have to hear about it too.)

We Extend Our Sympathy

Jack Kelham, late of Auburn, died on January 5 following a battle with cancer. He is the eldest brother of Jennie DePaolo, Clerk-Treasurer for the City of Garrett.

Ernest "Ernie" Slabough, custodian of Nappanee City Hall until his retirement in 2006, passed away September 11, 2007. He was the father of Nappanee Clerk-Treasurer, Kim Ingle.

Elgie Tarnian, former Clerk-Treasurer of the Town of Syracuse, passed away November 14, 2007. She retired in 2003 after 14 years of service to her community.

Tricia Abbott's father, Michael Abbott, died November 20 following an illness. Tricia is the Accounting Supervisor in Muscat.

Former long-time Clerk-Treasurer Judy Companik of St. John lost her mother, Lucille Kertis, November 5, 2007. Judy was the full time care provider for her mother the past several years.

Marjorie Davidson, Clerk-treasurer of Alamos, a small town in Montgomery County passed away the third week of October, 2007.

Farewell Dinner

by Janice Malinowski

It may have been a dreary, rainy night in Dyer, Indiana on January 10, 2008, on the outside but inside Gino’s Steakhouse Restaurant it was merry and festive. Many Clerk-Treasurers, Chief Deputies, many friends from Northwest Indiana, along with his lovely wife, Linda, gathered together to honor Tom Hoffman at his farewell dinner. A delicious meal was served, memories were revisited and a good time was had by all.

Tom has obtained both his IAMC and CMC accreditations. He has devoted many hours in the IT area for the Indiana League of Municipal Clerks and Treasurers League. One can certainly find all his assets, so to speak, invaluable as both a Clerk-Treasurer and his devotion to the ILMCT League.

After serving as a police officer in Dyer for 20 years, and a Clerk-Treasurer for 12 years, Tom felt it was time to take a break from public service. While he is working for Joe Neeb, Town Manager for Dyer, setting up a five year financial plan, April, 2008 is his target date for a real retirement. Tom will be missed by all, but we know he is only a phone call away.

Mentors: Helping Clerks and Treasurers Succeed!

The ILMCT Mentoring Committee this year is co-chaired by Jennifer Shell and Jan Unger. Each municipal election year is always a challenge as there is a large group of retiring and newly elected Clerks and Clerk Treasurers. The Indiana League of Municipal Clerks and Treasurers want all of the new Clerks and Clerk Treasurers to succeed at their jobs. The Mentoring Committee is here to help with that success!

We are presenting a class at the ILMCT’s 13th Annual Institute & Academy in Muncie, on March 10th titled Nuts & Bolts of the Office of the Clerk Treasurer. The class is intended for Clerk-Treasurers in their first term to provide basic information and resources to get through the first year with confidence. Topics are: monthly duties, definitions, funds, payroll, budget and budget orders, taxes, CTAR, ledger of receipts and disbursement, ledger of appropriations, transfers, resolutions, ordinances, claims and minutes. We will have a format where we will be flexible and answer questions as they arise.

Listed below are members of the Mentoring Committee. These members have volunteered to help, not only new Clerk-Treasurers, but some of us “old” Clerk-Treasurers as well. There are new issues that come up in our respective cities and towns, which we have not had to deal with before. We can always count on our peers to help out with an ordinance, resolution, or just give good advice on a particular situation they have had experience with. Also, a Clerk or Clerk-Treasurer from a neighboring city or town may be able to offer advice. We have found that all the Clerks and Clerk-Treasurers we have spoken with, to be more than willing to share information.

At times, you may need in-office assistance. The following former Clerk-Treasurers can provide you professional assistance in your office and will require financial arrangements.

Quest: March 2008
TrustINdiana — Open for business

TrustINdiana, Indiana’s local government investment pool, is open for business! First, a special thank you to several fine Clerk-Treasurers: Retha Hicks (Winona Lake), Michael Griffin (Highland), and Judy Rhodes (West Lafayette) who selflessly donated their knowledge, time, and energy in helping create TrustINdiana.

On January 30, 2008, we officially launched TrustINdiana with a press conference at the Indiana Statehouse. At the press conference, I discussed the objectives of TrustINdiana, introduced MBIA Asset Management as the selected manager, and formally introduced Kelly Mitchell, former Cass County Commissioner, as the asset pool’s director. I am extremely pleased that my office is now able to provide an additional financial option to local government entities.

As the nation’s newest local government investment pool, TrustINdiana will offer local government officials a new investment option while providing total liquidity and competitive yields. For the first time, local governments can invest in the same instruments as State government, which consistently offer greater yield while maintaining strict guidelines for preservation of capital. Also, the economies of scale will result in lower costs for investing.

One of the benefits of the TrustINdiana management system is that all account holders will be able to access their accounts and make transactions through the TrustINdiana website. The electronic management system offers great flexibility in reporting and can be tailored for the needs of each participant. I am confident that as local government officials learn about the benefits of TrustINdiana the fund will rapidly grow.

To open a TrustINdiana account, please contact Kelly Mitchell. Diversifying your investment portfolio is always a good idea, and the benefits offered by our new fund will bring competition for public dollars to more communities. Remember, every dollar in interest earned is a dollar that does not have to be collected in taxes!

If you have any questions or need additional information, please contact Kelly Mitchell, TrustINdiana’s Director, at kemitchell@tos.in.gov or toll free at 888-860-6242.
Evansville is in a league of its own!

Tuesday evening, we will visit historic Bosse Field, the third oldest ballpark in the country, where “A League of Their Own” was filmed! Don’t miss the exotic animal and plant species at Mesker Park Zoo and Amazonia, the only rainforest in the Midwest! If history is your game, explore Evansville’s five museums, including the Reitz Home and LST 325, an authentic World War II ship. For non-stop entertainment, have fun at the District at Aztar! Unwind after a long day by taking a relaxing stroll along the riverfront Greenway passage.

Lighting the way to the future through education!

Monday, you will have the opportunity to earn credit towards your continuing education and certifications by attending these classes.

Your Role in Local Government (IIMC Institute/Academy Class; Category II, 3 hours)

What role should the Clerk/Clerk-Treasurer play in local government? What are the roles of the Clerk/Clerk-Treasurer and Mayor or Town Manager? Of the Clerk/Clerk-Treasurer and the Council? How are they to interact? Does the Indiana Code clearly define these roles? Who is the “boss” of the Clerk/Clerk-Treasurer? This session will provide helpful insights to these questions from the legal and practical side. Clerks/Clerk-Treasurers, Mayors, Council Members will discuss these roles and how each can learn to appreciate and support the others. This will help both new and experienced Clerks and Clerk-Treasurers to develop a more sharply defined understanding of their role in local government.

Popcorn from a Past President (IIMC Institute/Academy Class; Category III, 3 hours)

Susan L. Morrow, MMC (Plainfield Charter Township Clerk, Belmont, Michigan)

Oh no!! Not another day at the office!! Some - ol’, same - ol’. It’s off to work we go!!! Get ready to change your tune with lots of practical ideas which have come from your cohorts and from some other surprise places!! This interactive class will be fun and inspirational. Our afternoon presenter brings with her a wealth of knowledge and experience to share with us in a fascinating way. Susan has been in office for 24 years. She has chaired several IIMC committees, served as Region V Director and most recently as the IIMC President from 2005-2006. She will be sharing an assortment of ideas and experiences that will be sure to inform and entertain. Come and learn and laugh with us.

Dear Diary

Nappanee Tornado

October 18, 2007

October 18, 2007 an F3 Tornado hit Nappanee at 10:18 PM. The tornado started just outside of Bourbon, IN and stayed on the ground, gaining strength, following a southwesterly to northeasterly path, ending about three miles northeast of Nappanee. Within our City limits the tornado ravaged 1 Christian School, 1 Church, 308 residences, 27 industrial buildings, and 10 commercial buildings. The City Department of Streets and Sanitation buildings were in the direct path of the storm. Many other homes, farms and businesses in Marshall, Kosciusko and Elkhart County were lost in the storm. Estimated damages storm wide exceeded $70,000,000.

The evening of October 18, 2007 was stormy and the National Weather Service had issued several Thunder Storm Warnings and Tornado Warnings for northern Indiana. Our Emergency Service Departments were sent out twice on storm watch, once around 7:00 PM and the second time around 10:00 PM. The Chiefs activated our tornado sirens at approximately 10:13 PM. At approximately 10:15 PM one of our Police Officers called in from his location, about one mile south of Nappanee, with a physical sighting of a tornado on the ground. Our citizens had approximately a five-minute warning that the storm was upon us. Many citizens told me personally that they were saved because they heard our tornado sirens and took cover. Storm wide – seven people suffered minor injuries and had to seek medical attention – no one was killed.

The Nappanee Emergency Management Plan and NIMS were immediately activated. Our Emergency Command Center was a hub of activity. Yes, even the Clerk-Treasurer, was called into action. Pursuant to our Emergency Management Plan and NIMS, I prepared the written press releases for our Chiefs and Mayor. County Emergency Management responded within the hour, Emergency Services from four counties, State Police, County Police, INDOT, NIPSCO, IDEM, IDHS, were all in Nappanee in what seemed to be minutes.

ITEM #1 – Please, if your community has not completed your Emergency Management Plan or your NIMS training, do so as soon as possible. Because our plan was in place and training was complete – what could have been a chaotic situation was avoided.

October 19, 2007 – DAY 1

After the initial shock and after finding that everyone had survived the first concern was helping our citizens – housing, food, and clothing – those basic needs that we all take for granted. The Red Cross and Salvation Army responded immediately and we can never thank them enough. The City has designated shelters and many people in the unaffected areas opened their homes to friends and relatives. Our churches responded in mass, offering shelter, food, clothing and counseling. Our Emergency Services, with the help of many other agencies, worked to secure the area. Our Water and WWTP Utilities worked to shut off water and repair water leaks throughout the area, along with NIPSCO, Embarq, and Mediacom.

ITEM #2 – fire, gas leaks, electric wires on the ground, water leaks, trees and debris blocking access to areas, were all huge concerns the first day. Traffic control also became an issue – not only sightseers but people who wanted to respond to friends and family in their time of need. Be sure that your Emergency Management Plan addresses these issues.

At the same time the City had lost our Streets and Sanitation Department – buildings, some trucks and equipment, two lift stations, two tornado sirens, two police cars, one ambulance and one fire truck were damaged. Our Street and Park Department employees worked to salvage what they could from the Street Department and moved everything to our Park Department buildings, as well as helping with debris removal in the affected area.
October 20, 2007 – DAY 2

Where do you begin? The devastated area was exactly that, devastated. Trees, debris, personal belongings, houses, factories, recreational vehicles on top of recreational vehicles, cars and trucks, electric poles across streets – now it was time to think cleanup. In our Emergency Management Plan we contract with a local company to help with debris removal. That contractor brought in every man and piece of equipment they had. The Governor released INDOT to work, not only on the highways, but also anywhere in the City. INDOT came with equipment and people, along with many departments from neighboring Cities and Towns and the monstrous cleanup job began. ITEM # 3 – you can never be financially prepared for the cost of a disaster like this. Our private contractor hauled, mulched and ground up debris for 21 days. The final bill was $303,000. The Elkhart County Waste Management District waived dumping fees to the City for sixty days, which really helped. **

October 21, 2007 – DAY 3

Mayor Thompson organized a Volunteer Cleanup Day. We made arrangements with the High School to park vehicles in their parking lot and use school buses to haul volunteers to the affected area for work details. We anticipated a response of five to six hundred individuals. Boy, were we wrong! We had approximately two thousand volunteers show up. We ran out of buses to transport them. The kindness and generosity in people's hearts, that day, will always be with me.

On the evening of Day 3, Mayor Thompson called for a special meeting with a small group of individuals to discuss recovery efforts, the FEMA Disaster designation and other relief efforts for all of the victims of the tornado and the City. From this meeting the NITRO group was born. NITRO is the Northern Indiana Tornado Relief Organization. The NITRO group consists of approximately fifty, help and relief organizations, with experience in disaster relief, fund raising, construction, counseling and individual case management.

The City established a Tornado Victims Assistance Fund and on Day 4 received the first donation of $10.00 for our survivors. To date we have received $655,000 to be used for relief to anyone affected by the tornado. NITRO established three committees, finance, case management and construction. All funds are distributed after review by case management and finance. We not only have the concern of those that lost their homes in the storm but those that lost their employment in our devastated industrial and commercial area.

We were no longer VICTIMS – we were SURVIVORS. The application for FEMA Disaster Relief was being prepared and damage assessments were being worked on daily.

ITEM # 4 – do not rely on the accuracy of the assessments as performed by FEMA, Homeland Security or even your County Emergency Management. When we had to take on our own recovery effort we found that these assessments were not accurate. The people doing those assessments do not know your City and therefore are not familiar with neighborhoods, addresses and actual locations of buildings. If it’s possible have some of your own people do an assessment for your records. We have spent a month redoing the original assessments. **

October 23, 2007 – DAY 5 and BEYOND

Nappanee is recovering one day at a time. FEMA denied our application for Individual Assistance and denied our appeal to that decision. When the denial was received, NITRO became our sole resource for survivor assistance and recovery. Cases are presented for assistance on a weekly basis by the case management committee and approved by the finance committee for payment. My office is paying those bills through a fund that the City Council established, by ordinance, for this purpose. Donations to the Tornado Victims Assistance Fund are transferred to the Elkhart County Community Foundation, where they are held and disbursed to me on an as needed basis, as a grant.

From Day 1, I informed my department heads that I needed written documentation on every activity, every man hour, every donated hour, every piece of damage to City property, for what I was sure would be an application to FEMA for Public Assistance. I soon to find out that FEMA Public Assistance was not an option – at this point the City had $1.25 Million in damages and expenses – you needed a minimum of $7.5 Million to apply for Public Assistance.

ITEM 5 – it is essential that you gather every item of documentation, copy invoices, track employees time, estimates for repairs and contractors costs. If FEMA or Pride & Professionalism

I am so proud of my colleagues for continuing with their education. Their professionalism shows in how they run their offices and how they serve their communities. Janet and I look forward to presenting them with their certifications before the entire ILMCT at our 2008 Conference in Evansville.

I encourage everyone, if you have not started, to work toward becoming certified with our State Certification - Indiana Accredited Municipal Clerk (IAMC); the International Certifications - Certified Municipal Clerk (CMC), and Master Municipal Clerk (MMC); and, through the Association of Public Treasurers of the United States and Canada, the Certified Public Finance Administrator (CPFA).

"Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire."

IDHS don't request this information, you will definitely need it for insurance claims.

As a city, it is impossible to put away enough funds to cover this kind of expense. I discovered my Rainy Day Fund was my best source of funds. I also asked the Council to postpone several projects planned from County Economic Development Income Tax funds and allow them to be used for tornado expenses. After insurance paid off on the City damages, the event still cost approximately $600,000.00. The Indiana Department of Homeland Security has a disaster relief fund at their disposal and we requested consideration from them. The documentation to receive these funds is a lot like that which FEMA would require. The City was approved and received $198,000.00 in relief; this was the first time this fund has been used by the State.

The financial ramifications to the City have been far reaching and will be long lasting. We lost sixty-five Water and Wastewater Utility customers the day of the storm, and it is estimated that most of those customers will be back on line at the end of a six-month period. We will suffer a loss in utility revenues of approximately $60,000.00 per utility. Property owners are eligible to, petition for survey and reassessment of real and personal property partially or totally destroyed by disaster, through the DLGF, for the time period that they suffer the loss of their personal property. This reassessment will cause the City to suffer a shortfall in property taxes over the next two budget years.

February 19, 2008 – DAY 124

There have been a number of disasters in the last 124 days. Our tornado becomes less significant in the big scheme of things. We think about how lucky we are every day. I wish I could thank all of you individually for your prayers, best wishes and offers of assistance. I know that is not possible — so for now — I would like to say “Thank you, everyone.”
"Think Spring," two words that you do not give much consideration to in the fall, but after winter ... now take a moment to close your eyes, visualize the flowers bursting through the soil after a long winter, adding vibrant colors to the landscape of life, birds chirping, the fragrance of lilacs floating in the air and the kiss of the sun warming your face. Yes, two words come to mind, “Think Spring.”
